Linda Moreno, this three-year-old girl, was diagnosed with Retinal Blastoma. This deadly form of cancer has spread throughout her entire body, forcing Linda and her mother to live at the University Medical Center in Tucson, where everyday is a test of hope and faith. With no other family or friends to turn to, Linda needs our help. We can't save every child in this world, but with your kind donations, we can give Linda Moreno the blessing of life.

Join ASU students, faculty, and musicians from across the country for a night of inspirational music. The evening's performances will deal with the many issues faced by cancer patients and their loved ones, and look at courage, love, life, and hope. Music comes from all genres that touch the heart and open the eyes to the beauty of life.

Our featured performers include Nashville recording artist and hit songwriter Jenny Yates, ASU faculty members Carole Fitzpatrick and Robert Barefield, singer/songwriter and cancer survivor Sarah Outwater, violinist Taylor Morris, singers Kat Schuett and Melissa Solomon, as well as performances from ASU's top music students.

An auction will be held and CD's will be sold during intermission and after the program.

Items donated by:

Garth Brooks, Trisha Yearwood, Barbara Streisand, Natalie McMaster and more!

ALL proceeds go to help Linda in her struggle for Life.
